

Situation 4

You are a reporter for a small radio station and the local gas and electric utility offers to fly you to the new hydroelectric plant for a story. They will provide transportation, lodging, and meals for two days in an attractive resort area while you do the story. Your station could never pay for this. Do you take it?

Situation 5

A criminal in a sensational local case has never talked to the media. Now, she is calling you asking if you'd like an exclusive personal interview. The catch? She wants $300 to help her child get an operation. Your station can afford this. Do you agree?

Situation 6

Your reporter comes back with an interview of a very newsworthy person who has refused to talk to the media. You find out that the reporter wore a wireless mic and the photographer shot the interview from a parked van a half-block away. Does it matter whether or not this individual, who is involved in a public scandal, didn't know she was being taped?
