

9/11 Anniversary
Patrick Harwood
Sept. 11, 2009

TRT: 3:09

Stand Up Open Length: :34

Stand Up Open

Super: Patrick Harwood/
C of C Scene

Hi I'm Patrick Harwood for C-of-C
Scene. It was eight years ago today...
September 11, 2001...that the horrific terror attacks on America took place...killing thousands. Eight years later...the War on Terror continues.
Most of the students here at the College of Charleston were 10...11...12 years old when 9-11 happened. They've grown up with the War on Terror. So today on this eighth anniversary...how do these young people feel about the War on Terror...are we winning? Can we win? Is America doing the right thing?

POS Comments

Super: Chris Bland/Charleston

Chris Bland- Charleston Length: :23
In: The war started back
Out: doing the right thing

Super: Morgan Edwards/Columbia
Super: Robin Scott/Aiken

Morgan Edwards- Columbia and Robin Scott- Aiken Length: :26
In: It doesn't feel
Out: never going to stop

Super: Taylor Chaboz/Charlotte
Super: Joey Ingham/Maryland

Taylor Chaboz—Charlotte and Joey Ingham—Maryland Length: :31
In: It's definitely gone on long enough...
Out: done what we can, so we're done

Super: Rachel Jester/Greenville

Rachel Jester—Greenville Length: :39
In: I think almost that it was

9/11 Anniversary POS (p.2)

Super: Preston Garrison/Nevada

Out: claim a democracy

Preston Garrison—Nevada Length: :22

In: I support the war

Out: any other way to look at it

Stand Up Close

Stand Up Close Length: :15

Super: Patrick Harwood/

Early on in the War on Terror then

President George Bush warned the country that this is a war that could last 20 years or longer. Eight years in to the war...with its outcome still so murky...Bush's prediction could very well come true. For C of C

Scene...I'm Patrick Harwood.

###